The issue which is the Aaron's rod of the hour, and destined to swallow up all the other issues of the approaching canvass, is essentially financial. Southern soldiers early in the war between the States, soon suggested to that is now history to-wit: That the subjugation of the South was to be no child's play, but would require for its consummation a mighty army thoroughly equipped. Armies are constructed of flesh and blood; are clothed, fed, armed and paid with money. The United States Government, then, had to have the soldiers and money, Besolved. That we condomn the legislative bounty, and to raise the bounty they usurpitions of Congress, and particularly the several acts of reconstruction, so-called, as violative of the constitutional compact between the States, and utterly subversive of every principle of self-government that distinguishes a free people. To raise the soldiers they offered a Resolved. That we are opposed to any measures which recognize that the integrity of the Union was ever looken—that any of its members were ever out—and that we determinedly insist that the Southern States as longer theing in insurrection, or at war, with the Federal Government are entitled to the full State recognition and constitutional successitation in Constitution in Constituti halls of public legislation, and ac-
